

Conversation Groups

Good to Know

- Conversation groups are free of charge for Centrepoint members.
- Non-members can usually attend one session without charge, after which they must become a Centrepoint member.
- Conversation Groups are held in-person in the Centrepoint Conversations Room or Library. Certain groups are held online via Zoom.
- The groups are generally not suitable for absolute beginners.
- The conversation group leaders are volunteers.
- The primary purpose of the groups is language practise. Centrepoint does not provide structured language courses.

Joining a Conversation Group

- Please send an email to conversations@centrepoint.ch.
- We will send you an application form in which we ask you to provide some personal details and information about your language level.
- Then we will check for available places in suitable groups and invite you to a trial session. You may try more than one group if places are available.
- If there are no places available in any of the suitable groups, you may choose to go on a waiting list.
- We kindly ask that you only go to a group once you have received confirmation that a space is available from conversations@centrepoint.ch.
